The Caldwell Fine Arts Board meets quarterly as a whole group to make decisions for the organization. Individual committees and the Executive Committee meet more frequently. CFA requests a monetary donation (in any amount) of all board members. Board members advocate for CFA in the community, seek partnerships, request sponsorships, and interact with the public at CFA events. Committee members may oversee finances, assist with marketing, help with hospitality, decide future CFA events, or participate in Education programs. CFA applies our anti-discrimination policy (below) to our selection of Board Members. We value a diversity of opinions.

"Caldwell Fine Arts at The College of Idaho does not discriminate on the basis of race, age, sex, color, national and ethnic origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or religion in administration of its programs."
