

Will You Be The One?

(Sarah/Soprano)

Cecelia Benson
Alison Moulton

1 (Jester) Try - ing so hard to fit in, in life's (Sarah) They all seem to know what I'm sup -

3 one act plays, I've learned my lines, I say say the things I'm s'posed to say. But posed to be No one asks what's in my heart, or in my dreams. Do

6 I'm so tired of liv - ing on a stage. Will you be, will you be—the
I please them or do what's right for me? Will you be, will you be—the 9 one?

one? Will you be the one to final-ly look in - side my heart? Will you

12 be the one to—final-ly set me free? Can I just be who I am, or must I

15 play a part? Will you be the one who will just let me be me?

18 (Humphrey) It's so hard to fit in when you'll be the king. I have ev'ry thing but what I

21 real - ly need. I'd trade it all for friends to play with me. Will you

24 be, will you be the one? Will you be the one to final-ly look in -

27 side my heart? Will you be the one to—final-ly set me free? Can I

30 just be who I am or must I play a part? Will you

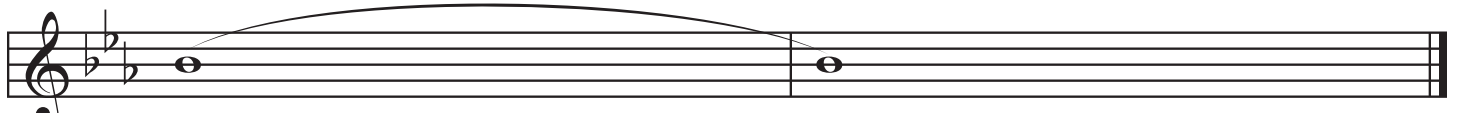

32 be the one who will just let me be me? Try-ing so hard to fit in,

35 Will you be, will you be the one? Will you

38 be, will you be the one? Will you be the 41 one? one?